El Zapotal Project Final Update

Pieter Koeleman - June 3, 2008

The project is now nearly complete! All four buildings can be seen at left, with the last just requiring some finishing touches. Photos of the construction are shown on this page, the end results can be seen on page 2.

These results include some of the many happy faces this project has produced - children at play and at work in the classroom, as well as with their parents doing some site clean-up.

A heartfelt Thank You to all who supported this challenging but wonderful project. Rotary Shares!
